2nd SPUP International Research Conference

SPUP Global Center
January 14-16, 2016

Theme:

Towards an Integrated ASEAN
Community

Rationale:

The onset of ASEAN Integration, which is dramatically affecting economies, societies and education, has posed great challenges and opportunities to education leaders, researchers, policy makers, program implementers, and other education practitioners in terms of implementing effective strategies that will promote education networking among the ASEAN colleges/universities and enhance professional interactions including research cooperation and networks.

With this challenge, Saint Paul University Philippines, an internationally recognized Higher Education Institution in the Philippines will host a global research conference with the following specific objectives:

- To showcase quality researches along ASEAN Integration.
- To share research-based emerging trends to foster ASEAN connectivity.
- To explore processes, actions, challenges and outcomes for ASEAN Integration.
- To share the status of special projects related to ASEAN Integration.
- To promote linkages between and among educational institutions and agencies.

- To motivate/encourage more researchers and educators to share their best practices and innovative approaches which provide optimal benefit to the socio-economic and political growth of the ASEAN region.
